Organization Background

Afghan Women's Educational Center (AWEC) is a Non-Governmental Organization founded in (1991) by Afghan women in exile, and was registered as an active local NGO with the Ministry of Economic in Afghanistan in 2006. Since its inception in 1991 AWEC has worked for women's educational and social uplift and empowerment and children development and protection. AWEC has implemented different projects and created different platforms to support Afghanistan's vulnerable people including women and girls since the organization was inaugurated, activities include but not limited to the Afghan Women Network (AWN) in 2004. ALP accelerated learning programs in different provinces, CBE programs, Peacebuilding programs, livelihood programs, Humanitarian support, Education programs, Protection women business support, small grants to NGOs and CSOs, and NGOs capacity building programs. Access to justice, and Wash. used innovations such as exposure visits and exchanges between women from different provinces and interactions between women of different ethnicities to allow sharing of their experience of peace and conflict and strategies to build peaceful societies. Besides that, AWEC pioneered many other visionary projects including women and children peace-building program,

Currently, AWEC is working in in more than 10 provinces as an expert organization in women empowerment, equality, and opportunity building for women and children through educational and social interventions. AWEC is committed to professional capacity development and organization development and has evolved from a community center in 1991 to a full-fledged national NGO in 2015.

AWEC acknowledges and addresses the cultural, social, and economic barriers that hinder women's access to justice and legal assistance. The organization's commitment to overcoming these barriers and promoting women's rights is reflected in its comprehensive programs and initiatives. AWEC focuses on women's empowerment and provides various services to uplift vulnerable women and communities. These services include educational programs, skills training initiatives, income generation activities, legal aid, and protection services. AWEC strives to empower women, break barriers, and foster gender equality and social inclusion.

- Policies: Note deviations from clinic safety policies and procedures.

5.2 Hazards

- Assessment: Recognize potential hazards that could lead to accidents or health issues.
- Risk Evaluation: Evaluate the risk associated with identified hazards.

5.3 Opportunities for Improvement

- Enhancements: Suggest areas where safety practices can be improved, even if they are not critical issues.

6. Reporting

6.1 Recommendations

- Actions: Provide clear, actionable recommendations for addressing identified issues.
- Prioritization: Prioritize recommendations based on risk and impact.

6.3 Final Report

- Review: Have the report reviewed by the audit team and awec program department.
- Submission: Submit final report to awec program department.

ANNEX 2 DESCRIPTION OF SCOPE OF SERVICES REQUIRED (MARKET ASSESSMENT)

A market assessment involves analyzing the dynamics and potential of a particular market to inform business decisions. Conducting a market assessment for making soap for personal use in the provinces of Laghman, Nuristan, and Nangarhar in Afghanistan involves understanding the local demand, market dynamics, and competitive landscape.

A consultancy firm is required to

1. Define the Market

- Geographic Scope: Focus on Laghman, Nuristan, and Nangarhar provinces. These areas are relatively rural, and market dynamics might differ from urban centers.
- Product Focus: Since the soap is for personal use, consider different types such as bar soap, liquid soap, or specialty soaps (e.g., herbal, organic).

2. Conduct Market Research

- Secondary Research:
  - Local Data: Gather information on the local economy, consumer behavior, and purchasing power. Sources could include local government reports, NGOs, and international organizations operating in the region.
  - Industry Reports: Look for reports on the personal care industry in Afghanistan, if available, to understand broader trends.
- Primary Research:
  - Surveys and Interviews: Conduct surveys or interviews with local residents to gauge interest in personal care products. Explore their preferences, buying habits, and price sensitivity.
  - Focus Groups: Organize focus groups to get detailed insights into consumer needs and preferences for soap.

3. Analyze Market Size and Growth

- Current Market Size: Estimate the potential market size by assessing the population in each province and understanding the percentage likely to use or buy soap.
- Growth Potential: Evaluate factors that might influence market growth, such as increasing awareness of hygiene, potential urbanization, or changes in income levels.

4. Evaluate Market Trends

- Hygiene Awareness: Assess the level of awareness and demand for personal hygiene products. Increased awareness due to health campaigns can drive demand.
- Local Preferences: Identify any local preferences or trends, such as a preference for natural or herbal ingredients, which could influence your product offering.

5. Assess the Competitive Landscape

- Local Competitors: Identify existing soap producers in the region. Analyze their product offerings, pricing, distribution methods, and market share.
- Unique Selling Proposition: Determine how your soap can stand out. Consider factors like quality, ingredients, packaging, and pricing.

6. Identify Opportunities and Threats

- Opportunities:
  - Unmet Needs: Identify gaps in the market. For example, if there's a demand for natural or herbal soaps that's not being met, this could be an opportunity.
  - Partnerships: Explore potential partnerships with local vendors, cooperatives, or NGOs to enhance distribution and reach.
- Threats:
  - Economic Factors: Consider economic instability or low purchasing power, which might affect consumer spending on personal care products.
  - Supply Chain Issues: Assess potential challenges in sourcing raw materials or distributing products in these regions.

7. Understand Customer Needs and Preferences

- Consumer Insights: Collect detailed information on what consumers in these provinces want from a soap product. Consider preferences for fragrance, skin type suitability, and packaging.
- Pricing: Determine what price range is acceptable to your target market while ensuring that you cover costs and achieve profitability.

8. Develop a Market Strategy

- Product Strategy: Decide on the types of soap you will produce, considering local preferences and needs (e.g., herbal soaps for sensitive skin).
- Pricing Strategy: Set a competitive price that aligns with local purchasing power.
- Distribution: Develop a distribution plan that could include local markets, shops, or direct sales. Consider partnerships with local distributors or retailers.
- Promotion: Create a marketing plan that educates consumers about the benefits of your soap and highlights any unique aspects of your product.

9. Monitor and Update

- Market Feedback: Continuously gather feedback from customers to refine your product and strategy.
- Market Changes: Stay informed about changes in the local market environment, consumer preferences, and economic conditions to adapt your approach as needed.

Abnormal Bids

An Abnormally Low Bid is one in which the bid price, in combination with other elements of the Bid, appears so low that it raises material concerns as to the capability of the bidder to perform the contract at the offered price.

The evaluation committee can take the Consideration on bids in which they have over 30% Difference in their prices for more clarifications.

Subcontracting

The contractor may subcontract up to twenty percent (20%) of the performance of the procurement contract with the written consent of the procuring party.

Consent to a subcontract may be granted on condition that it does not affect any other responsibility of the contractor under the procurement contract, and the sub-contractor shall be qualified to carry out the same duties as the contractor.

Cancellation of the Bids

The Employer should only reject all bids and cancel a bid if:
There is evidence of collusion;

There has been unsatisfactory competition;
Bid prices substantially exceed the cost estimates or available funds;
The specifications or other conditions inadvertently failed to reflect the client's requirements, reduced competition, and generated substantially non-responsive bids or very high prices.
Before canceling a bid, the Employee should consult the senior management and agree on the cancellation and procedures for procuring the contract.
Once the approval is received from the executive director and senior management the procurement department can share the bid cancellation with its result with the bidder.

Bidders' Appeals and Complaints

- The bidder has full right to show his/her concerns regarding transparency of the bidding process if they are not satisfied with the procedures.
- The bidder can write a written complaint about the observations they have when the notification of award/cancellation is submitted to the bidders.
- In the notification document complaint email and Phone shall be mentioned in case the bidder does not agree with the decision if they have any observations.
- The Complaint shall be forwarded to the complaint committee for review and the result shall be shared with the bidder after evaluation of the complaint by the committee.

Penalty for Delay and Bonus Award

- (1) The agreed sum to be paid per time-unit (day, week, or month) of delay; b. The maximum penalty amounts.

Penalty delay consists as follows:

- One-day delay of 0.05% of the total contract amount
- One-week delay of 0.5% of the total contract amount
- Over ten days' delay 1% of the total contract amount
- Over 25 days' delay contract termination (Termination of the contract will be subjected to the approval of the Executive director and provided justification of supplier)

Environmental Protection

The entity and contractor are obliged to take necessary actions to protect the environment in procurement proceedings and the implementation of contracts in accordance with relevant legal documents.

Safeguarding & SEA Preventions

The Supplier shall ensure compliance with AWEC safeguarding policies, which include not hiring underage children, trafficking in Persons, emotional and physical abuse to both men and women, Grooming, and Online grooming. The contractor/Supplier has to make sure to promote the welfare of people (especially children and vulnerable adults) in the communities where we work and not expose them to the risk of harm, including sexual exploitation and abuse. Safeguarding measures seek to prevent situations where individuals can use their position of power, to abuse or exploit another person. The Contractor acknowledges and agrees that the provisions hereof constitute an essential term of the Contract and that any breach of this representation and warranty shall entitle AWEC to terminate the Contract immediately upon notice to the Contractor, without any liability for termination charges or any other liability of any kind.

Force Majors

A force majeure clause states that if an extreme, unforeseeable event occurs that prevents or delays a party from performing their contractual obligations, which party will not be in breach of contract as a result of the delay/non-performance. Neither party shall be in breach of this agreement or otherwise liable for any failure to fulfill its obligations if such failure results from events, circumstances or causes beyond its reasonable control. In the case of contractor or suppliers, the key obligations that they may fail to perform due to a force majeure event could be:

- a) Failure to pay invoices within the agreed payment terms; or
- b) Failure to perform the services or deliver goods within the agreed timescale.
